Walk Right In Sit Right Down Get the Right Phone

Ever walk into a cellular store and feel a bit "at sea?" These days there are so many phones, so many plans and so many choices. It was exactly with the customer in mind that we recently reorganized our store so that the first thing you'll see when you walk in is a friendly Answer Page associate greeting you. We'll find out how you like to communicate, what you want and need in a device and a cellular plan, and then we'll make the best suggestion to match those needs. Never feel seasick in a phone store again. Come to Answer Page, and let us be your lifesaver.

The Motorola Electrify is Lighting the Way!

The new Motorola Electrify lives up to its name in a number of ways. Everyone's touting its dual-core 1GHz processor as one of the fastest on the market. However, this sizzling Android phone has many other tricks up its sleeve. The 1 Gig of RAM, the 4.3" wide screen, the 8 MP camera, the HD video recorder, micro-USB & HDMI ports, and installed Adobe Flash Player really are just the beginning. Depending on how you use it, Electrify can run for days and days on a single charge!

What ups the voltage even further are the dynamite accessories made for Electrify. The multimedia dock converts your phone into your complete MP3 system or even the equivalent of a laptop computer. Connect the Electrify to its navigation dock in your vehicle, and it immediately converts to its user-friendly hands-free mode. No more scrambling to plug in devices when your phone rings on the highway.

And Motorola's operating system BLUR integrates seamlessly with Android technology, as if the two were made for each other. You really just have to try out this phone to believe how great it is! And just when you think you've heard about all the cool features, we've saved the best for last. The Motorola Electrify comes with... a kickstand. From a practical standpoint, this allows you to prop the phone up on your desk so it's more visible as a clock or video player. Speaking more in geek terms however, it's one more feature that makes the Electrify cooler than your roommate's smartphone.

Penny Fitzsimmons

Answer Service Operator

For Penny Fitzsimmons, working at Answer Page is twice as nice an experience. That's because it's her second time in the answering service operator department. As one of the original employees, she worked for seven years as an Answering Service Operator and Manager.

From 1996 to 2004, Penny took a hiatus to help raise her grandsons. In 2004, she rejoined the company as an operator.

"I really enjoy helping Answer Page's clients and their callers," Penny says. "We're there to help, and it's great when it all comes together."

In her 14 years at Answer Page, she's helped all types of callers and worked all shifts, including overnight. "When you work at night, almost every call is an emergency to the person calling, so it's important to be at your best."

Penny has four grandsons, ranging from age 2 to 14, whom she calls "the best little guys ever." In her off time, she enjoys camping and spending time with the grandsons and her three children.

Two of Penny's daughters have also worked at Answer Page while attending high school. "Answer Page is a great company to work for. The people are just nice, friendly people, and I can't say enough about Bill Anderberg. He's a boss who became a friend."
